

State Sins Against Women Uncovered

Lawyers Hired by National Woman's Party Bring Legal Discriminations Against Sex Before Eyes of Public; Southern States Are Guiltiest

WASHINGTON, August 19.—Today the sins of 18 states against women have been uncovered by the National Woman's party. The most heinous of sins, in the eyes of the feminists, consists in the refusal of a state to recognize the equality of women in all legal matters.

Burrowing fast into the voluminous state codes contained in the library of the United States supreme court, the 10 women lawyers working under the direction of Alice Paul, are revealing out the discriminations against women. As soon as a complete list of the transgressions against the sex in one code has been unearthed the shame of that state is flaunted to the world in pamphlet form.

It is hard to determine which of the states is guiltiest from the feminist point of view, certainly not one of the 18 is entirely blameless. Judging merely superficially, Georgia seems to have received the most black marks from the recording angels at work in the supreme library.

Under age and all circumstances the husband is the head of the family in Georgia. The person may have sonorously announced that the two should be made one, but in Georgia the husband is the one.

"The husband is the head of the family, and the wife is subject to him; her legal civil existence is merged in the husband," is the way the law reasons in that wicked state.

DRUNKEN CASE CITED
Ed Scott and his wife lived in Hall county, Georgia. She rented the house in which they lived and helped the husband by teaching school. She complained that a drunken man by the name of Patterson invaded her home and used "vulgar and profane" language. Her husband claimed that the man was not drunk and that he was a suitable associate and that he "loved most dearly" Patterson. Whether or not the drunken man could be punished for his invasion of the house depended upon whose home it was. The court said:

"No matter who paid the rent—the true legal relation of husband and wife in her (the wife's) mind is reversed. This puts the petticoats in a more advanced position than the pantaloons. Where husband and wife reside together, whatever else she may be heard of, HE is head of the house."

Neither does the Mississippi law recognize marriage as a partnership between equals. Here, too, the husband may welcome or exclude anyone he wishes from the home for any reason or no reason at all. For instance, the following case was taken from the legal records:

"Colonel X refused to allow his stepson, the only child of Mrs. X, to visit her. The court upheld him, stating 'he had a perfect right as master of the house to exclude any person from his doors and to determine who should be received as a visitor by his wife, whether or not the grounds upon which he acted were sufficient to justify him in a moral point of view.'"

In Louisiana the mother's authority over her legitimate minor children is inferior in every way to that of the father. By Louisiana law, children owe obedience, honor and respect to their father and mother. But in case the parents disagree, the father's will is the only one to be honored, respected and obeyed.

In Louisiana an attorney recently quoted Crolius to the effect that if the commands of the mother and father clash, the father is to be obeyed upon account of the excellence of his sex.

Whoopee! "The excellence of the sex"—and may that expression didn't make the feminists and illegitimate children.

In the laws of most of the states the rights of the father are in every way superior to those of the wife, but the mother is the sole guardian of the illegitimate child. In Virginia the father of an illegitimate child, responsible equally with the mother for the birth of the child, has no legal responsibility for its care and support. In Florida a mother may bring a bastardy complaint against the father and if she wins all the father can be compelled to pay in $50 a year for 10 years towards the child's support and education plus the expenses of the birth of the child.

The earnings of a wife are under the control of her husband in Vermont and in Maryland. In Michigan, New Jersey, Maine, Rhode Island, Colorado, Florida, Alabama and Missouri the husband owns the services of the wife within the home. She cannot require him to pay her wages nor can she claim the money she makes from keeping boarders. In many states a married woman may not make a business contract without the consent of her husband nor can she legally enter a business partnership with her husband. In Michigan a wife was restrained from conducting a competitive business against her husband after disagreeing with him and neither could she secure a divorce.

DIVORCE CAUSES UNEQUAL
In Alabama, although the husband owns his wife's services in the home, he is entitled to object of her earning money outside of the home and, although the wife does not have full control over her own property, the Alabama law makes a married woman fully responsible for her debts incurred both before and after marriage.

In Louisiana a wife may not accept a gift or inheritance without the consent of her husband. The causes for which divorces may be granted are seldom equal in any of the states and the women say they are often unjust. In Virginia and Maryland, a wife may be sued for divorce upon discovery of acts of indiscretion committed by her before marriage, although she cannot sue for like causes. In Texas occasional acts of infidelity on the part of the husband after marriage are not considered sufficient cause for divorce though a man may sue his wife if he can prove a single case of unfaithfulness.

SUCCEEDS WHERE DOCTORS FAIL

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Often Does That.—Read Mrs. Miner's Testimony

Churubusco, N. Y.—"I was under the doctor's care for over five years for backache and had no relief from his medicine. One day a neighbor told me about your Vegetable Compound and I took it. It helped me so much that I wish to advise all women to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles and backache. It is a great help in carrying a child, as I have noticed a difference when I didn't take it. I thank you for this medicine and if I ever come to this point again I do not want to be without the Vegetable Compound. I give you permission to publish this letter so that all women can take my advice."—Mrs. FRED MINER, Box 102, Churubusco, N. Y.

It's the same story over again. Women suffer from ailments for years. They try doctors and different medicines, but feel no better. Finally they take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you can see its value in the case of Mrs. Miner.

That's the truth of the matter. If you are suffering from any of the troubles women have, you ought to try this medicine. It can be taken in safety by young or old, as it contains no harmful drugs.

Make Your Own Complexion Treatment At Home

A Free Oatmeal Prescription Does Its Work Overnight.

New York.—"It is my own discovery and it takes just one night to get such marvelous results," says Mae Edna Wilder when her friends ask her about her wonderful complexion and the improved appearance of her hands and arms. "You can do the same thing if you follow my advice," she says. "I feel it my duty to tell every girl and woman what this wonderful prescription did for me."

"Just think of it, all this change in a single night. I never tire of telling others just what brought about such remarkable results. Here is the identical prescription that removed every defect from my face, neck, hands and arms. Until you try it you can form no idea of the marvelous change it will make in just one application. The prescription which you can prepare at your own house is as follows:

"Go to any grocery store and get 10 cents worth of ordinary oatmeal, and from any toilet counter, bottle of dermivolo. Follow the directions for using oatmeal as given in every package of dermivolo. Dermivolo is a natural skin tonic of willow. If it is more convenient you can use oatmeal."

"The first application of dermivolo will astonish you. It makes the skin appear transparent, smooth and velvety. It gives you a very youthful appearance. I can't recommend this method for a dark, sallow, shiny nose, tan, coarse pores, rough skin, redness, wrinkles and in fact every blemish the face, hands and arms are heir to."

"If your neck or chest is discolored from exposure, apply this combination and the objectionable defect will disappear as if by magic. It is absolutely harmless and will not produce or stimulate a growth of hair.

"No matter how rough and ungainly the hands and arms or what abuses they have had through hard work and exposure to sun and wind, this oatmeal-dermivolo combination will work a wonderful transformation. Over a million girls and women are now using it in preference to face powder and other beautifiers. This is what two well known actresses say about it."

Dorothy Dalton, the beautiful actress, says: "The first application of this wonderful dermivolo-oatmeal combination will astonish you. It imparts instant beauty to the skin and makes a rosy-white complexion everyone will talk about. It protects my skin in all kinds of weather. That's why I prefer it to all other preparations and am never without it."

Viola Dana, the well known star, writes: "I am often asked how I keep my complexion so fresh looking. It's a simple process for anyone to have a smooth, velvety, rosy-white, girlish complexion if they will use Linola cold cream to cleanse the skin and that well known toilet preparation, dermivolo, to beautify it. I recommend these preparations to all my personal friends and they are just as enthusiastic over them as I am."

Note: To get the best effect be sure to follow the complete directions contained in every package of dermivolo. Druggists and department stores guarantee that there will be a noticeable improvement after the first application or return of the money. It is sold in this city under a money refund guarantee by department stores and all druggists.—Advertisement.
